

1995

CONSTANCE FENIMORE WOOLSON CELEBRATION

Rollins College, Winter Haven, FL

January 27-29, 1995

Constance Fenimore Woolson and Florida

Kate Reich, Rollins College, "The Woolson Collection at Rollins."

Anna Lillios, University of Central Florida, "The Image of Florida in 'Felipa.'"

The State of Scholarship on Constance Fenimore Woolson

Sharon Dean, Rivier College, "Woolson Studies: Where Have We Been, Where Are We Going?"

Cheryl Torsney, West Virginia University, "A Woolson Scholar's Wish List."

Woolson's Fictional Landscapes

Victoria Brehm, Grand Valley State University, "Constance Fenimore Woolson as a Regionalist."

Joanne Skollar, Drew University, "Surveying the 'Imaginative Landscapes' of Constance Fenimore Woolson."

Denise Castaldo, Drew University, ""The Two Shall Become One': Woolson's 'Lady of Little Fishing' as a Response to Hawthorne's The Blithedale Romance."

Woolson's Biography

Lyndall Gordon, St. Hilda's College, Oxford, "Minnie Temple, Fenimore, and Henry James."

John Pearson, Stetson University, ""James and Woolson."

Mark Hardy, Independent Scholar, "Inherited Depression in the Woolson Family."

New Directions in Woolson Research

Carolyn VanBergen Rylander, Rollins College, "'Crowder's Cove': Woolson and the Civil War."

Polly Howells, Independent Scholar, "Restless in Xanadu: The Liminal Homes of Constance Fenimore Woolson."

Caroline Gebhard, Tuskegee University, "Two Sonnets: Constance Fenimore Woolson and The New Century for Woman."

A Constance Fenimore Woolson Society?

Susan Koppelman, "The Politics and Ethics of Organizing a Revival of an Obscured Woman Writer: How Do We Do for Woolson What We Did for Kath Chopin, and Should We?"

Keynote Address: Joan Weimer, Drew University, "Alive and Well and in the Papers: Constance Fenimore Woolson in 1994."